

Date: 3-12-1990

Time: 3:44 PM

Location: Marcus Hook, Pennsylvania; -38 15' 00'', 144 34' 00''

Test Trial 34.5

RICHARD HARTWELL- EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR; VIEWING FROM GALLERY OF LAB

DANIEL BURKE- ASSISTANT SCIENTIST; WORKING INSIDE LAB

JULIAN DELGADO- INTERN; WORKING INSIDE LAB

[00:01] Burke: Alright everyone, starting [REDACTED] test 34.5.

[00:06] Delgado: Confirmed.

[00:08] Hartwell: Confirmed.

[00:15] Burke: Delgado, go ahead and start the transducer.

[00:17] *button is pressed; sounds of whirring*

[00:36] Delgado: Transducer is on.

[00:38] Burke: Confirmed. Dr. Hartwell, how are we looking?

[00:45] Hartwell: All good on my end. Delgado, watch your step before exiting the booth.

[00:52] Delgado: Confirmed. Exiting now.

[00:55] *sound of falling metal as well as a body falling;
Delgado's speech is inaudible*

[1:02] Burke: Delgado! F*ck.

[1:03] Hartwell: Burke, close the booth now. We need to contain the transducer or it will take in the whole lab.

[1:06] Burke: Delgado's in there, we can't leave him behind.

[1:08] Hartwell: That's an order, Burke.

[1:10] *button is pressed, the booth to the transducer is closed and the rest of the lab is silent; Burke curses to himself though it is inaudible*

[1:10] Hartwell: Burke, have you and the other attendees evacuate the lab. We will have a clean-up crew come in tonight.

[1:14] *Audio log ends*